STAR OF GOLD

By

MANA ~ ZUCCA

HIGH F LOW D

40 Cents

NO DISCOUNT

The Boston Music Company.

The Star of Gold

HERMAN A. HEYDT
and
P. C. WARREN

MANA-ZUCCA. Op. 36, No. 3

Moderato

Voice

Piano

mf

pooo rall.

a tempo

mp

The sil-v'ry stars in heav-en tell their lore Of worlds that pass un - to a bound-less shore,

a tempo

p

col Ped.

In pale, su - per - nal light, In pale, su - per - nal light,

Copyright, 1918, by The Boston Music Co.

poco rall.
a tempo
mf
All through the night.
A star of blue up-
poco rall.
a tempo
dim.
mp
on a field of snow,
Hemm'd in by bands of deep-est crim-son glow,
A brave man's
dim.
cresc.
deed dis-plays
Through man-y wan - - ing days.
cresc.

poco rall.
a tempo
mf
What is the grim but glo-rious sto-ry told
By that same star when
poco rall.
a tempo
mp
Più lento
mf
f
it is turn'd to gold?
It proves a brave man's proud-est sac - ri-fice,
mf
f
It proves that man has pay'd the high - est price
To set the world for ev-er

f largamente sempre
cresc.
fmolto
free;
And through e - ter - ni - ty
That
largamente sempre
f
cresc.
f
cresc.
ff
gold - - en star will shine a - far; Oh,
cresc.
ff
rall.
star
of
gold!
rall.

A Song of Timely Sentiment

I'LL PRAY FOR YOU

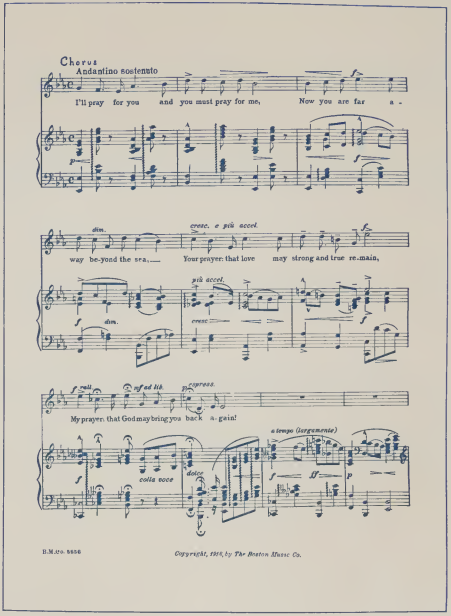
Music by
EDWARD ST. QUENTIN

Words by
EDWARD LOCKTON

Published in three keys

High, in E♭
Medium, in D Low, in C

Price, thirty cents, net



Chorus
Andantino sostenuto
I'll pray for you and you must pray for me, Now you are far a - way be-yond the sea, Your prayer: that love may strong and true re-main,
My prayer: that God may bring you back a-gain!
a tempo (leggiermente)
colla voce
B.M.Co. 5856
Copyright, 1918, by The Boston Music Co.

Sad is ev'ry day,
Skies are dark and gray,
Since you left me very lonely here;
All the while I long,
To greet love's golden song,
To fold you in my arms, to have you near.

Far though we're apart,
In my waiting heart,
Dreams of you arise like light divine:
And I know at last,
When the night is past,
Love will come again and make you mine!

Chorus

I'll pray for you, and you must pray for me,
Now you are far away beyond the sea,
Your prayer: that love may strong and true remain,
My prayer: that God may bring you back again!

The Boston Music Company, Boston, Mass.